General Computer Sciences

Objectives

The scientific mission of the Computer Sciences Department is to influence the way computing machines are built, programmed and used.