The objective of this seminar was showing researchers the computational applications and problems in the study of Earth Sciences. Specifically is analized the usage of supercomputing in the next areas: Climate, Weather and Seismic.

To achieve the goal of the seminar, renowned scientists and researchers shared with the attendees their findings at developed projects and studies.

Contact Us:

Please contact with trainings-res [at] bsc [dot] es in case you require further information.

Barcelona Supercomputing Center - Centro Nacional de Supercomputación