RES Scientific Seminars 2014: Earth Sciences

The objective of this seminar was showing researchers the computational applications and problems in the study of Earth Sciences. Specifically is analyzed the usage of supercomputing in the next areas: Climate, Weather and Seismic.

To achieve the goal of the seminar, renowned scientists and researchers shared with the attendees their findings at developed projects and studies.

Contact Us:

Please contact with trainings-res [at] bsc [dot] es in case you require further information.

Barcelona Supercomputing Center - Centro Nacional de Supercomputación